

Subject Area: A-level Three dimensional design - Year 12

Curriculum Intent: Three-dimensional design is an A-level course is one of exploration and growth. Aspirations are at the centre Art and Design at Trinity Sixth form Academy, forging links with makers both local and national, in an educational context. A set of initial skills based workshops, intend to prompt students to begin to consider the breath of materials and processes and their potential. With a focus on observation, drawing skills are the heart of this course. Observing a range of subject matter, students will learn to adapt their skills based on scale and purpose. Students will research, design, manipulate and make utilising a variety of media, exploring independent focuses from a range of starting points. Experimentation and problem solving is promoted through a challenge and a journey towards mastery. This personal process will conclude in the form of a range of skilled outcomes. Taking an active role in independent research students will deepen their understanding of artists and designers, within the context of the timeline of Art history. Taking into account the interaction between social, historical and political roles students will consider the value of their own artistic investigation and its cultural setting. The course structure aims to foster a natural desire to independently resolve creative problems, embarking on a purposeful learning journey informed by a range of contextual sources. Students select a specialism for the final stages of their three dimensional journey, demonstrating a competence in the application of their skills and processes. Students foster a genuine desire to reflect and respond, refining their outcomes as they progress through their two year making journey.

Dates	Content	Assessment	Rationale
Term 1 and 2	PROJECT 1 – Design and discover AO1 Being critical and analytical contextual and other sources AO1 Respond to research in own work AO2 Selected appropriate materials and processes in response to research AO2 Review and refine work as it develops AO3 Drawings, designs, photos and observations AO3 Annotations of an evaluative nature in order to record analytically and critically AO4 Developing a personal and meaningful response	Individual feedback - targets discussed with all students in a one to one. Literacy support - full written feedback given on literacy elements such as research. Group Crit Sessions – sketchbook sharing sessions led by peers and tutor. Self-assessment – checklists updated weekly to guide your project trajectory and sketchbook focuses PC1 –AO1 Marks, progress and grade one to one discussions PC2 – AO1, AO2, AO3, AO4 Marks, progress and grade one to one discussions	Students are introduced to the key elements of 3D design. Exploring form, geometry, materials, production and design. Students research and explore key movements of the design world and apply these to their own processes and creative outcomes. A short initial project with a focus on hands on making, allows students to gauge their opinion on key materials from the power of paper to the constructs of ceramics. Our in-house 3D specialist will introduce key processes from plaster casting to wire sculpture; offering one to one support within the workshop. Working independently students will research a range of practitioners and movements within Art and Design. Students will consider the intentions of Artists and how this sit within the wider world. Exploring their making and design processes, students will respond with their own experiments. Using sketchbooks or digital portfolios, students will review and reflect on their work. Making tweaks and adjustments students will log this making journey and refine their work. PS/CV's: Considering the issues within society, students may take on issues of global importance. For example the impact on their images when recording their 'here and now'. Students draw on the work of practitioners both contemporary and historical, European and non-European. Students will investigate the cultural, political and historical significance of artists work within the timeline of art history.
Term 3 and 4	PROJECT 2 – Structures and Surfaces AO1 Being critical and analytical contextual and other sources AO1 Respond to research in own work AO2 Selected appropriate materials and processes in response to research AO2 Review and refine work as it develops AO3 Drawings, designs, photos and observations AO3 Annotations of an evaluative nature in order to record analytically and critically AO4 Developing a personal and meaningful response	Individual feedback - targets discussed with all students in a one to one. Literacy support - full written feedback given on literacy elements such as research. Group Crit Sessions – sketchbook sharing sessions led by peers and tutor. Self-assessment – checklists updated weekly to guide your project trajectory and sketchbook focuses PC3 – AO1 PC4 AO1, AO2	Students will be taught CAD processes and introduced to the laser cutter. An electronics project is included, as well as textiles and theatre design. With a focus on the man-made world, students will explore ceramics, woodworking and casting and moulding as they explore both form and texture. Working independently students will research a range of practitioners and movements within Art and Design. Students will consider the intentions of Artists and how this sit within the wider world. Exploring their making and design processes in both digital and physical forms, students will respond with their own experiments. Using sketchbooks or digital portfolios, students will review and reflect on their work. Making tweaks and adjustments students will log this making journey and refine their work. CEIAG: Explicit links made with the purpose of imagery for example in industries such as Architecture Advertising and Graphic Design, exploring roles in these areas (Careers). Sociological, cultural and historical context is often essential when unpicking the work of practitioners. Regular links made with both film and television. Subjects such as feminism, gender and consumerism openly tackled through class debate as and when raised.
Term 5 and 6	COMPONENT 1 - PERSONAL INVESTIGATION A personal unit, responding to a range of Artists chosen by students themselves AO1 Being critical and analytical contextual and other sources AO1 Respond to research in own work AO2 Selected appropriate materials and processes in response to research AO2 Review and refine work as it develops AO3 Drawings, photos and observations AO3 Annotations of an evaluative nature in order to record analytically and critically AO4 Developing a personal and meaningful response 15 HOUR CONTROLLED ASSIGNMENT – FINAL OUTCOMES	Individual feedback - targets discussed with all students in a one to one. Literacy support - full written feedback given on literacy elements such as research. Group Crit Sessions – sketchbook sharing sessions led by peers and tutor. Self-assessment – checklists updated weekly to guide your project trajectory and sketchbook focuses PC5 AO1, AO2, AO3, AO4 PC6 AO1, AO2, AO3, AO4	At the end of year 12 students embark on their own personal investigation. Time is spent carefully considering the vast number of possible routes of investigation for students personal investigation. This independently selected investigation is student's choice of exploration with Art, Craft and Design. Students must select a topic, theme or issue to interrogate through their own independent exploration. Lessons provide a comprehensive revisit of materials in a workshop approach, supporting students throughout their learning journey. To develop their own compositions and make progress in their designs, students conduct independent research into both contextual and non-contextual sources AO1, AO4. Students are supported to ensure their analytical skills become confident and highly developed; including image analysis, visual analysis and colour palette analysis. Students will complete a range of moodboard, mindmaps and present their findings in the form of a presentation. Students begin to record their initial ideas through examining three-dimensional designers, makers and industries. Students will begin to calculate the path for the project through the form of digital designs and observational sketches. CEIAG: Open trip to ManMet degree shows during June 2022 to promote creative routes in higher education

Subject Area: A-level - Three Dimensional Design - Year 13

Curriculum Intent: Three-dimensional design is an A-level course is one of exploration and growth. Aspirations are at the centre Art and Design at Trinity Sixth form Academy, forging links with makers both local and national, in an educational context. A set of initial skills based workshops, intend to prompt students to begin to consider the breath of materials and processes and their potential. With a focus on observation, drawing skills are the heart of this course. Observing a range of subject matter, students will learn to adapt their skills based on scale and purpose. Students will research, design, manipulate and make utilising a variety of media, exploring independent focuses from a range of starting points. Experimentation and problem solving is promoted through a challenge and a journey towards mastery. This personal process will conclude in the form of a range of skilled outcomes. Taking an active role in independent research students will deepen their understanding of artists and designers, within the context of the timeline of Art history. Taking into account the interaction between social, historical and political roles students will consider the value of their own artistic investigation and its cultural setting. The course structure aims to foster a natural desire to independently resolve creative problems, embarking on a purposeful learning journey informed by a range of contextual sources. Students select a specialism for the final stages of their three dimensional journey, demonstrating a competence in the application of their skills and processes. Students foster a genuine desire to reflect and respond, refining their outcomes as they progress through their two year making journey.

Dates	Content	Assessment	Rationale
Term 1 and 2	COMPONENT 1 continued (60% WEIGHTING) Equally weighted across 4 assessment objectives (AO1 – AO4 24 marks in each band) Personal Investigation AO1 Being critical and analytical contextual and other sources AO1 Respond to research in own work AO2 Selected appropriate materials and processes in response to research AO2 Review and refine work as it develops AO3 Drawings, designs, photos and observations AO3 Annotations of an evaluative nature in order to record analytically and critically and reflect on progress AO4 Developing a personal and meaningful response	Individual feedback - targets discussed with all students in a one to one. Literacy support - full written feedback given on literacy elements such as research. Group Crit Sessions – sketchbook sharing sessions led by peers and tutor. Self-assessment – checklists updated weekly to guide your project trajectory and sketchbook focuses PC1 –AO1 Marks, progress and grade one to one discussions PC2 – AO1, AO2, AO3, AO4 Marks, progress and grade one to one discussions	Lessons are led on a workshop basis, continuing to explore processes such as woodworking and laser cutting, our expert practitioners will provide guided tuition on design software such as sketch up and Adobe photoshop. Specialist processes and materials are supported from plaster casting to embroidery. Students continue with their personal investigation. This self-directed personal study is a thorough, sustained and coherent investigation of a topic or theme of their own choosing. Students must become confident and highly development in their ability to communicate their mastery of all assessment objectives, which are interdependent of each other; AO1, AO2, AO3 and AO4. Students begin their project with a range of initial investigations into their chosen field of focus. Selecting appropriate practitioners’ students must explore both contextual and non-contextual inspirations, being critically analytic of their processes, designs and intentions. Students must select appropriate techniques, materials and processes, relevant to their topic and investigation. Both experiments and observations are at the core of their practise. Focusing on key findings of their research students begin by making, drawing and observing appropriate subject matter in response. Students will need to select appropriate techniques in response to their topic and research. Students’ developments and investigations will be informed by a critical examination of the wider context of their investigation considering the social, political and historical implications of their project. Students must continue to review and refine their work, recording work in sketchbooks and reflect on their work, evaluating it as they make progress. Students work should be personal and meaningful, resolving their creative endeavours through a range of outcomes. PS/CV's: Considering the issues within society, students may take on issues of global importance. For example the impact on their images when recording their 'here and now'. Students draw on the work of practitioners both contemporary and historical, European and non-European. Students will investigate the cultural, political and historical significance of artists work within the timeline of art history.
Term 3 and 4	EXTERNALLY SET ASSIGNMENT (40% WEIGHTING) Students select a theme from the topics set by AQA, responding to their choice of topic in response. AO1 Being critical and analytical contextual and other sources AO1 Respond to research in own work AO2 Selected appropriate materials and processes in response to research AO2 Review and refine work as it develops AO3 Drawings, designs, photos and observations AO3 Annotations of an evaluative nature in order to record analytically and critically and reflect on progress AO4 Developing a personal and meaningful response	Individual feedback - targets discussed with all students in a one to one. Literacy support - full written feedback given on literacy elements such as research. Group Crit Sessions – sketchbook sharing sessions led by peers and tutor. Self-assessment – checklists updated weekly to guide your project trajectory and sketchbook focuses Sketchbook checks every two weeks Group Crits PC3 – AO1 PC4 AO1, AO2	Students select one of the externally set themes. This self-directed study is a thorough, sustained and coherent investigation of a topic or theme of their own choosing. Students must become confident and highly development in their ability to communicate their mastery of all assessment objectives, which are interdependent of each other. AO1, AO2, AO3 and AO4. Students begin their project with a range of initial investigations into their chosen field of focus. Selecting appropriate practitioners’ students must explore both contextual and non-contextual inspirations, being critically analytic of their processes. Students must select appropriate techniques, materials and processes, relevant to their topic and investigation. Both experiments and observations are at the core of their practise. Focusing on key findings of their research students begin by drawing and observing appropriate subject matter in response. Students will need to select appropriate techniques in response to their topic and research. Students’ developments and investigations will be informed by a critical examination of the wider context of their investigation considering the social, political and historical implications of their project. Students must continue to review and refine their work, recording work in sketchbooks and reflect on their work, evaluating it as they make progress. Students work should be personal and meaningful, resolving their creative endeavours through a range of outcomes.
Term 5 and 6	EXTERNALLY SET ASSIGNMENT (40% WEIGHTING) A personal unit, responding to a range of Artists chosen by students themselves AO1 Being critical and analytical contextual and other sources AO1 Respond to research in own work AO2 Selected appropriate materials and processes in response to research AO2 Review and refine work as it develops AO3 Drawings, photos and observations AO3 Annotations of an evaluative nature in order to record analytically and critically AO4 Developing a personal and meaningful response 15 HOUR CONTROLLED ASSIGNMENT – FINAL OUTCOMES	Individual feedback - targets discussed with all students in a one to one. Literacy support - full written feedback given on literacy elements such as research. Group Crit Sessions – sketchbook sharing sessions led by peers and tutor. Self-assessment – checklists updated weekly to guide your project trajectory and sketchbook focuses PC5 AO1, AO2, AO3, AO4 Final Marks Given	Students conclude their investigation in the formal of a final outcome. This could be anything, devised through their previous creative experiments. It may be a sculpture, animation, a book or set of prints. Students conclude their investigation in the formal of a final outcome. This can be a stand alone piece of work or a series which forms a creative resolution to their explorations, experiments and investigations. As a response to their critical and analytical findings, students should present a personal and self-devised through their previous creative experiments. It may be a sculpture, animation, a book or set of prints. This is completed, unaided, and under exam conditions during the 15 hours controlled time. Component 1 has a weighting of 60% of their final grade and the other 40% comes from the separate assessment of their externally set assignment (including a controlled exam of 15 hours). Students final grades are determined by AQA on submission and all marks are moderated internally, as well as standardised every year by AQA. CEIAG: Explicit links made with the purpose of imagery for example in industries such as Architecture Advertising and Graphic Design, exploring roles in these areas (Careers). Sociological, cultural and historical context is often essential when unpicking the work of practitioners. Regular links made with both film and television. Subjects such as feminism, gender and consumerism openly tackled through class debate as and when raised.

